NBR00913 IF YOU GIVE A PIG A PANCAKE

NUMEROFF, LAURA

"If you give a pig a pancake, she'll want some syrup to go with it. You'll give her some of your favorite maple syrup. She'll probably get all sticky, so she'll want to take a bath." Baths lead to bubbles, to rubber ducks, to wanting a trip to the farm. Who could refuse the whims of this adorable piglet? Parents will feel a familiar twinge as they witness the pig's increasingly elaborate demands, and kids will be delighted that the story circles back around to the original pancake. A marvelously skewed study of cause and effect that inevitably results in a riotous read-aloud book. For preschool-grade 2. 1998

CHILD, LAUREN

Lola is a very fussy eater. Carrots are for rabbits and peas are "too small and too green." One day, after rattling off her long list of despised foods, she ends with the vehement pronouncement, "and I absolutely will never not ever eat a tomato." Not convinced, Lola's older sister, Charlie, has an idea. She tells Lola that the orange things on the table are not carrots, but "orange twiglets from Jupiter" and peas are in fact "green drops from Greenland." Mashed potatoes, when pitched as "cloud puff from the pointiest peak of Mount Fuji" suddenly seem appealing to Lola, and in the end, might she even eat a tomato? Preschool-grade 2.
